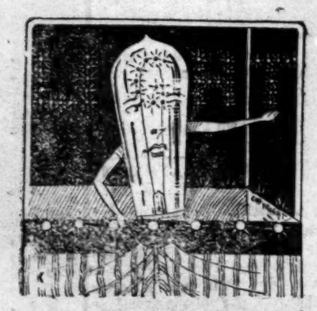
ELECTRICAL SUPPLIES



In a Few Light Remarks

we desire to dissipate the idea that electricity costs too much for ordinary people. It is with this purpose we are engaged in

AN ELECTRICAL CAMPAIGN

We propose to make a strong canvass among those who would like to use electricity if the cost were not too great. Send us word and we will call and give you an estimate of how little it will cost to have your house wired for it.

SANKEY'S SENSE OF HUMOR.

Mr. Sankey had a keen sense of humor, and was not above telling a story at his own expense. One day in Geneva he entered a music-box shop and asked to see some music boxes. The salesman graciously showed him a number, but none was what he wanted.

"Have you none that play sacred music?" he asked.

"Why," answered the salesman, "we have some that play a kind of half-way sacred music."

"What?" inquired Mr. Sankey.

"O, these Moody and Sankey hymns; I can't imagine what the people see in them, but we sell thousands of the boxes that play them. We have enormous orders for these boxes," continued the salesman, "from every part of Europe," and then he added, apologetically, "It's a matter of business, you know, with us."

Mr. Sankey smiled and said nothing, but a moment later a woman came hurrying up to him and holding out her hand exclaimed: "Why, Mr. Sankey, is this you?"

It was Miss Maria Havergal, a sister of Francis R. Havergal, the English hymn writer. The polite Swiss salesman looked anything but at peace within himself.—[Boston Herald.

SNAKE HIDES IN BASKET.

Few can realize the feelings that Mr. Charles Boyslem, of Baltimore, experienced yesterday morning, when a large black snake reared itself out of a basket of tomatoes, which the gentleman was carrying across the pier of the Tolchester Company, and made a vicious jump for his face. Mr. Boyslem was loth to tell of the incident, but one of the steamboat company's officers said that the bystanders cleared off the wharf faster than a crowd of tired excursionists even ran for their cars at night.

One of the deck hands, however, ventured near enough to dispatch the snake with a four-foot lath. It was afterwards measured, showing a length of nearly three feet and a thickness of an inch. How the snake managed to crawl in among the tightly packed tomatoes is a mystery, and those who carried tomatoes during the remainder of the day took especial care to examine every basket before they ventured to lift it.

PLAN TO STUDY HALLEY'S COMET.

Preparations are being made at the Maryland Academy of Sciences in Baltimore for the observation of the next return of Halley's comet, which is to recur in 1910. It is at present on its way there, but is still outside the orbit of the planet Jupiter and will not be visible until it is inside the orbit of Mars.

During the coming year special efforts will be made to photograph it months before it will be visible to the naked eye. This comet will also afford work for the new Carnegie reflecting telescope, which has just been set up after enormous difficulties encountered in construction and transportation to its permanent station on Mount Wilson, in California.

The principal use of this great reflector, the largest and most perfect of its kind ever built, will be to photograph distant stars and to study the peculiarities of the sun, with its still unexplained phenomena of spots, holes, protuberances, atmospheric effects and the like. In all these lines great results are looked for by scientists all over the world.

ATTACKED BY MANIAC.

Twice seized by the throat by a powerful maniac whom she had been called to attend, Dr. Mary Crawford, New York's only woman ambulance surgeon, narrowly escaped being killed yesterday. Herman Pemerantz had made two attempts to kill his wife when the police broke open his house and subdued him. Then they rang for an ambulance and Miss Crawford answered the call. She was not dismayed by the wild cries of the madman and was ministering to him when he broke away from the policemen and caught at her throat. She was so sooner rescued than she resumed her professional task, and when the man was secured and taken into the ambulance she jumped into her accustomed seat at the head of the patient. Two policemen accompanied her, but Pemerantz once more broke loose and attacked Dr. Crawford again. The attack knocked her off the ambulance, but her injuries were only slight.

ALL EMPLOYES ARE BLIND.

A business corporation has been successfully established in Vienna by men who are totally blind. The company manufactures brushes and baskets, and all its employes are blind. During the few months of its existence it has filed orders aggregating 28,000 kronen ($4,600), making a fair profit, and has enough orders on hand to justify the enlargement of its workshops. Sixteen of the employes are skilled workmen, and the company wishes it known that its wares are sold on their "actual merit," that they are put upon the market "in fair competition with the product of other concerns," and that the blind people want "business, not charity."

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUG. 19, 1908.

REV. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, of Pittsburg, with a view to making his church attractive to the young people, has arranged a lecture course for which the following lecturers have already been secured: Governor Johnson, of Minnesota; Maud Ballington Booth, Senator Taylor, of Tennessee; Elbert Hubbard, Senator Dolliver and General O. O. Howard. Dr. Steiner, who spent considerable time with Count Tolstoy lately, will also deliver a lecture there. Among those whom Dr. Levy hopes to secure are William T. Jerome, of New York; Booker Washington, John Wanamaker and Speaker Cannon. What all this has to do with the church and true christianity only Dr. Levy can tell, but many old fashioned people believe that such methods of attracting people to church do the cause of religion more harm than good.

IT HAS been stated in a report of the National Anti-Trust League that after the steel trust absorbed the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company the great combination was in control of 95 per cent. of the steel production of the United States. The remaining 5 per cent. of the manufacturers of steel are held to the trust by a "gentlmen's agreement," so that its monopoly is complete. But Mr. Taft is much afraid lest by depriving this monster of its tariff nourishment the "smaller" manufacturers competing with it will be "ruined." The giant monopoly has no competitors, and hence the candidate's fears are without cause. It is the smaller manufacturers, using the products of the trust, who are praying for relief from its extortions.

IN PREPARING the case against an accused bigamist awaiting trial in Baltimore, the deputy State's attorney has discovered that an old law, dating back to the English law of 1604, and transferred therefrom to the code of Maryland, makes death the penalty, without alternative, for bigamy in that State, and, as far as he can learn, this old law is still in force. The same law provides that the accused, if he returns to the jurisdiction in which his legal wife resides, may be there put on trial and he need not be returned for trial to the jurisdiction wherein the bigamous marriage was contracted. The latter phase of the old law has been declared in force by the Maryland Court of Appeals.

THE right of Senator Lodge's constituents to buy herring in Newfoundland waters and bring them into Gloucester free as the product of American fisheries—the crews of the schooners being Nova Scotians for the most part—is not only a tariff question, but also an international question, says the Philadelphia Record. It has been referred to The Hague tribunal for arbitration, and pending its decision the American and English governments have renewed the modus vivendi under which fishing by Americans in the waters of Newfoundland has been permitted for several seasons.

IT DEVELOPED yesterday that an attempt was made late Saturday night to burn the house of Abraham Lincoln, in Springfield, Ill. A torch had been lighted and applied to the building, but it was discovered in time by a woman living in the neighborhood, and the fire was extinguished with little damage. Well, after the lynchings, pillage and burnings that have been going on in Springfield for the past few days nothing that may happen there will surprise the people of the rest of the country.

THE New York Tribune, the organ of the republican party, asks: 'Do the people want prosperity, or only such prosperity as Bryan will approve? That is the question." Why, the average citizen wants any kind of prosperity rather than that which Mr. Taft's party is now giving him.

IT HAS been shown that Mr. William F. Stone, collector of the port of Baltimore, wrote letters to officeholders and others asking for contributions to the republican campaign fund. But what are civil service rules and regulations to republican office holders when an election is at stake?

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 19.

Because several transcontinental roads charged them 87 cents a hundred pounds for transporting rice from Houston, Texas, to Portland, Ore., instead of the regular rate of 55 cents, the Bayou City Rice Mills, of Houston, today filed a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission, demanding $391.06 reparation.

The Farmers' National Bank of Emlenton, Pa., which was declared insolvent April 24 was today permitted to reopen its doors for business, having complied with the conditions imposed by the comptroller of the currency.

The question as to whether a Jap should be allowed naturalization papers and the possibility of a test case has caused the Honolulu court to cable to the Department of Justice for some light. Masakechi Saeki, who took out first naturalization papers in New York, demanded second papers at Honolulu and wanted citizenship. The Department of Justice will inform the Honolulu court that it has already been held that no Japanese is eligible for naturalization.

The news from Caracas to the effect that President Castro had refused to allow the Brazilian legation to take charge of French affairs in Venezuela was received with interest today by officials of the state department. It was said that it is the first instance of the kind on record. It is also pointed out that Castro has probably made another enemy by his act because Brazil will naturally feel affronted at the idea that she is not persons grata to undertake this friendly duty for France.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry returned today from his trip of inspection of the Portsmouth and Boston navy yards. He also inspected the prisons and prison ships and says that he found conditions very much improved over what they were a year ago. He found the yards in good condition and that the system of shop consolidation is working admirably. Mr. Newberry witnessed the joint maneuvers of the naval militia of five states at Gardiners bay. He expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work done by the militia and the creditable appearance they made.

Declaring that he has been arbitrarily dismissed from the faculty, without cause and without a hearing, as provided in the regulations, Dr. Walter J. Quick, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Blacksburg, has appealed to the board of visitors and has retained Richard E. Byrd, speaker of the House of Delegates, to prosecute his case.

The lightning, thunder, wind and rain storm that passed over The Plains and vicinity on the 17th was the worst known to the "oldest inhabitant." The lightning set fire to James R. Foster's hay stacks and burned thirteen. Lightning yesterday struck a barn belonging to Mr. William Smith, of Halfway, burning it with its contents, killing one steer and burning twelve stacks of hay.

States Food Inspector Jones paid his first official visit to Newport News, yesterday, and inspected meat shops, grocery stores, confectionery establishments and ice cream factories. He declares that only a few of the places were conducted according to requirements of the law, and that most of them were in a deplorable, filthy and unsanitary condition. He conferred with Health Officer Bagby and before leaving said he would return to prosecute those who have not cleaned up their places. Mr. Jones also made inspection tours through Hampton and Phoebus, where conditions were found to be about the same as at Newport News.

GIRL WIFE HATES HUSBAND.

"I never did love him, but now I hate him. I just married him to get away from home and he knew it. He can come here all he wants to, but I'll never go back with him."

Sitting in one of the rooms of the police matron's department, Lucile Bailey Wilson, the girl-wife of Charles H. Wilson, who was found at Norfolk, by Detective Cotton Monday night, thus declared herself yesterday morning.

"I may go back to my home in Wytheville for a few days, but I'll never live with that man again," she said.

Turning to Grace Trent, her smaller companion, who was also found in the house on Washington street, she said: "You may do as you choose, but I'm going back home to live."

At the request of J. C. Bailey, father of Mrs. Wilson, Chief Boush sent Detective Sam Cotton to look for the young woman. It was said in the letter from Mr. Bailey that his daughter had run away from home, and that she was probably in company with Grace Trent, whom she met while on a visit to Roanoke. When Cotton found the young women he carried them to the Central Station, where they were placed in the care of Miss Seeley, the police matron.

Dynamite Explosion.

Amherstburg, Ont., Aug. 19.—A charge of dynamite on the drill boat Destroyer, of the Sullivan Dredging Company, of Buffalo, engaged in blasting out the lime kiln crossing in the Detroit river, off here, exploded this morning fatally injuring six men and less seriously injuring a half dozen more. The dynamite boat was blown to pieces.

The injured men were rescued from the water into which they were thrown by the explosion by tugs and other boats at hand. The explosion resulted from the day crew sinking a drill in a hole in the rock in which a charge had already been placed by the night shift, which had neglected to notify the day shift.

Fined for Rioting.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Aug. 19.—Eight citizens, charged with rioting in Portsmouth Friday night when the county jail was stormed, were today fined $100 each and sent to jail for sixty days. Others were fined smaller sums.

The Hains Affair.

New York, Aug. 19.—Virtually every officer in the U. S. army was rallied to the defense of Capt. Peter C. Hains, the slayer of W. E Annis, today, by the publication of a story of Mrs. Hains, in counter charge of her husband's divorce proceedings, which had depicted conditions in army circles which, if proven to exist, would result in a scandal second only to the disgraceful state of affairs among the "Knights of the Round Table," the German army's infamous coterie.

The published story of Mrs. Hains' charges accuses the young army officer of the unmentionable crime which toppled Count Zu Eulenburg from his pedestal in the German court and alleges that such conduct was common among army officers of her husband's acquaintance here, and indignant denials were forthcoming on every side, but there seems no way of heading off an inevitable sensation.

Army officers declare that even though the charges in the newspaper stories are ignored by the government, which is not considered likely, they themselves will demand an investigation.

The exact text of the army captain's wife's allegations has not yet become public, the only information regarding it being contained in an interview with her father, in which he is quoted as stating that the papers contained probably the most startling statement are those in which Captain Hains is accused of misconduct even while on his wedding tour, and another instance when his wife is said to have found Capt. Hains in the quarters of an army officer at Fortress Monroe in a situation which it is impossible to relate. The wife is said to have further charge that her husband mistreated her in an unnatural manner while on their honeymoon.

Service of the papers in which Mrs. Hains made her sensational charges was made on Captain Hains a week ago last Monday.

It is said that it was T. J. Haines, who instilled into his brother's mind the idea that his wife's accusations of depravity had been prompted by Annis and who urged the killing in which he subsequently aided.

Both Mrs. Hains and her father, after Hains had charged that his wife was intimate not only with Annis, but with other men at New York hotels, and with enlisted men at Fort Hamilton, decided that the wife would take the stand and tell in public of the doings of Captain Hains and of the alleged depravities practised in army circles at Fort Hamilton and Fortress Monroe. That these matters will all come out in the trial of the Hains brothers now seems certain. Mrs. Haines is determined to tell her story whether it occasions a scandal in the army or not.

Rumors that the Hains brothers had repented their attitude of desiring vindication and were meditating an escape from the flimsy Long Island City jail in which they are confined has led today to the placing of extra guards over them. Both General Hains and a brother of the prisoners, Major John Powell Hains, of Chicago, are here today, as is also R. P. Hains, of Boston, an uncle of the slayers. All are men of means and are standing solidly behind the men who killed Annis. There will be no lack of means for the defense. And while father brother and uncle of the Hains brothers are here fighting their battle out on Sandy Hook, at Fort Hancock, the aged mother of the slayer and his children are under guard to prevent the intrusion of unwelcome visitors upon the grief of the aged woman.

The commanding officer at the fort placed the guard this morning after an influx of camera fiends who sought to snap the children and their grandmother.

Coroner Ambler's inquest in the case at Flushing town hall tonight will be a most perfunctory affair. He will merely establish the fact of the murder and will not in any way probe the motive or any of the attendant circumstances.

No ceremonial of a Masonic nature was used at the burial of Annis today in St. Michael's Episcopal cemetery at Astoria, nor was there any reference made to the manner of his death at the funeral services at his former home here. Members of the Bayside Yacht Club amended the funeral services, as did also a few of the dead man's brother Masons.

Apparently alarmed by the storm of indignation raised in army circles by this morning's account in which it was alleged Mrs. Hains had charged the grossest immoralities and degeneracy against certain army officers, and her husband in particular, Frederick L. Norton, attorney for Mrs. Peter C. Hains, jr., today denied that the papers filed by his client in answer to her husband's divorce suit contained any statement to warrant the sensational charges printed. "Mrs. Hains answer" said Norton, was only general. It asked not for an absolute divorce, but for a separation on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. We did not state the times or places at which the treatment complained of occurred; but that is not saying that he have not a record and proofs which will be used when our case comes before the court."

Attorney Norton said, however, that the conduct mentioned in his client's answer occurred principally while Hains and his wife were at Fort Hamilton.

"For the published statement that Hains was found by his wife in the room of a brother officer under compromising circumstances and other details," he declared, "there is no basis in these papers. Our answer was served upon Captain Hains two weeks ago."

As the result of burns received in a gasoline explosion at their home in Alsen, S. D., Mrs. A. S. Anderson, a bride of two months, is dead and her husband is in a critical condition. Mrs. Anderson was pouring gasoline into a wash boiler when the explosion occurred.

A Customs Scandal.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—The United States authorities at Chicago, Boston and Washington for the last eight weeks have been investigating the most remarkable alleged attempt to "beat" the customs laws ever brought to their attention. Mrs. Emily Rockwell Crane Chadbourne, who is now living on the North Shore Drive, daughter of Richard T. Crane, millionaire head of the Crane Manufacturing Company, and Mrs. "Jack" Gardner, of Boston, are the persons involved. It is alleged that Mrs. Chadbourne brought into this country as, her household goods under a false declaration, nearly $100,000 worth of articles of virtue belonging to Mrs. Gardner, on which she placed a valuation of $8,000.

While in Europe, Mrs. Chadbourne formed the friendship of Mrs. Gardner, the eccentric Boston widow, well-known for her famous Venetian palace, brought to this country, plaster by plaster, from Italy.

The palace, erected at great expense in Back Bay Fens, known as Fenway Court, is filled with rare and costly paintings and statuary that Mrs. Gardner collected in various parts of Europe. About two months ago, secret service agents in Paris learned that a large shipment of Mrs. Gardner's goods had been made from Paris to London. The authorities there lost track of the goods. Last month Mrs. Chadbourne came back to America. She had several large cases labelled "household goods" shipped in bond to Chicago. She made a declaration that she truthfully invoiced goods which were "household articles." She declared they had been used less than a year abroard, were her personal property and hence entitled to admission free.

Following a tip from abroad that it might be well to investigate the shipment the goods were opened and instead of $8,000 worth of pots, pans, etc., $60,000 worth of tapestry, marbles, oil paintings, armor, porcelains and other things of the like were exposed.

What explanation was made by Mrs. Chadbourne is not known, but P. Montgomery, chief of the secret service department, was put on the case. He interviewed Mrs. Chadbourne here and it is said she admitted the deception and then began heroic efforts to keep it quiet and effect a settlement. The authorities assessed the legitimate duties amounting to $30,000 and then added fifty per cent. penalty on the gross valuation of the goods. A check for $70,000 was given the authorities. Then the goods were declared forfeited to the government and if Mrs. Gardner wishes to get them back she must pay the government $80,000, their value. Otherwise they will be sold at auction. When this step is taken the commercial honor of the government will be satisfied.

Terrible Mine Explosion.

Wigan, England, Aug. 19.—After the recovery today of 20 burned and mutilated bodies from the Maypole colliery, where a terrible explosion occurred yesterday evening, flames drove the rescuers back with between 50 and 60 bodies still undiscovered. Heroic efforts are now being made to subdue the flames so that the rescuing party can re-enter the wrecked mine, but there is no hope of finding any of the entombed men alive. The rescuers are working against fearful odds and at imminent risk of losing their own lives in the flames and gases that fill the mine. Many were overcome by the fumes and brought to the top of the mine unconscious. Eighty men were in the mine when the explosion occurred and but four escaped. Most of the bodies recovered are either headless or limbless, showing the terrific force of the explosion. Many of the mine ponies were also dismembered.

A frenzied and grief-stricken mob, after an all-night vigil at the mine, is still hovering near the shaft, in the hope that some of the entombed miners may yet be rescued alive. A party of seven rescuers that attempted to re-enter the mine this afternoon were overcome by gas and are now in a critical condition. They were dragged out of the mine unconscious by a second party of rescuers, one of whom is also at the point of death. Later in the day another party of rescuers entered the mine. Midway down the shaft they found that the roof of the mine had fallen in, completely blocking the entrance to the place where the miners are entombed. It will require many days to remove this wreckage and before the entombed men can be reached they will have starved to death if they are not already dead from the explosion and asphyxiation.

Hanging Koreans.

Seoul, Aug. 19.—To terrify Korea into obedience to the Mikado, Japan is publicly hanging a rebel a day in every important city outside the capital. The executions began three weeks ago and have continued uninterruptedly. The wily Japanese authorities give foreigners to understand that the victims are brigands. To the natives, however, it is made clear that the men hanged are political offenders and that the authorities are more strongly disposed to deal leniently with common criminals than with those in arms against the Japanese government. That there may be no interruption in the programme of hanging all rebels captured by the Japanese troops in the field are concentrated at various distributing stations court martialed, condemned and doled out as the authorities at the various towns many call for them.

Official reports say the Korean revolutionists have murdered 841 Japanese, or pro-Japanese Koreans in the last year, besides the Mikado's soldiers killed in actual battle.

France and Venezuela.

Paris, Aug. 19.—News from Venezuela that President Castro had refused to permit the Brazilian minister to act, also as French charge d'affaires, occasioned no undue excitement in government circles today.

That France will act with a strong hand there is no doubt.

If it is seen that French interests are suffering heavily France will likely move against Castro without waiting for Holland to dispose of her grievances.

Dr. Jose de Jesui Paul, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs, at first agreed to be Brazilian administrator of French affairs, but, on Castro's order, changed his mind, declaring that such a move might endanger the friendly relations between Venezuela and Brazil.

Quiet in Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 19.—With the riot situation completely in the hands of the city authorities, and the outlaw spirit thoughly quieted the First and Fourth regiments today departed for their respective stations. It is expected that orders will be given today for the Second and Seventh regiments to leave tomorrow. The Fifth Infantry, made up from towns near Springfield and the First Cavalry will be the last to go.

There has been no sign of an outbreakince early yesterday morning when the last firing occurred between the soldiers and some scattered negroes. Troops, however, will continue to patrol the streets and guard the negro quarters.

The grand jury which was sworn in yesterday afternoon closed the day by finding an indictment against George Richardson, alleged assailant of Mrs. Earl Hallam. The jury then adjourned until this morning when it began an investigation of the riots. As fast as true bills are voted and the indictments can be drawn they will be returned to the court and the men, if not under arrest, placed in jail.

The jury has a great mass of evidence to work on. There are 100 under arrest charged with participation or leadership in the disorder. Of these indictments are sure to be returned today against Kate Howard, charging her with murder, inciting riot, burglary and arson. Abe Raymer, Roy Young, "Slim" Humphreys, Charles Rolfe and Will Sutton and many others have either confessed or property stolen has been found on their person.

Suicide of of a Minister.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Declaring in a note which was found near his body that he was tired of life, the Rev. James Duane Phelps, of Syracuse, shot himself in the Wurz Hotel here, and was found early today hanging out of his bedroom window, dead. The dead preacher arrived at the hotel yesterday and obtained a room on the third floor. He was not seen again until his body was found. The death bullet had been fired into his mouth and there was no other mark or wound upon his body. The Rev. Mr. Phelps had been connected with the Northern Christian Advocate, and for some time past, it is said, he had been in a sanitarium. He was treasurer of the Syracuse University.

New York Stock Market.

New York, August 19.—The irregularity in prices of stocks continued during the first hour, but by 11 o'clock the bearish tactics which were so effectively employed early yesterday proved unsuccessful as to permanent results. Traders caused depression in a few of the specialties while in others sharp advances took place.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the lowest prices of the day had been re-established in many cases and the market drifted further downward up to the end of the fourth hour.

Croker for Bryan.

Dublin, Aug. 19.—If Ireland could vote in the coming presidential election in America, William J. Bryan would be sure of one vote at least. That vote would be cast by Richard Croker, former Tammany chief.

Credited with recent utterances favoring Bryan, Croker was asked today how he would vote were he still at his old Tammany stand.

"I would vote for Mr. Bryan," he declared. "Regardless of the personal qualities of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taft, I think the policies represented by the former are safer, fairer and more in line with the American spirit than those represented by his opponent."

Lightning Knocks out Teeth.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 19.—During a storm yesterday, lightning struck a tree some distance from John Mesick's home and splintered it. One of the flying slivers, about an inch thick, passed endwise through one of Mesick's cheeks and out the other side, knocking out all of his teeth and leaving a jagged wound on both sides of his face. A larger piece struck Mrs. Mesick on the forehead, fracturing the skull. Mrs. Mesick was knocked unconscious, and her condition is considered critical. The injured man cannot speak, and his condition is also very dangerous.

The Cholera.

Lisbon, Aug. 19.—Encircling the entire Braga district with troops, the Portugese government is today rigidly maintaining a quarantine against the cholera epidemic which has been raging for weeks but, on account of the strict censorship, almost unknown to the rest of the country. So widespread is the disease that the town of Braga is practically one huge hospital, public buildings, hotels and the larger private residences being requisitioned by the authorities for the sick.

"YOU CAN'T KILL OUR NIGGERS"

Richmond negroes do not seem inclined to accept work in Springfield, Ill. just at present.

Capt. Frank W. Cunningham, city tax collector, received a letter yesterday from a friend in Springfield asking that 20 or 30 negroes be sent to that city at once to take the places of the negroes who are leaving in droves because of the riots. The writer says that many businesses are suffering for lack of help.

Captain Cunningham replied characteristically.

"I will not send anybody. You can kill your own niggers if you want to but you cannot kill ours."

MACHINE LAYS CONCRETE WALK.

A machine, consisting of a traveling mold and of a winch for pulling it along, is now being used in constructing cement sidewalks. The concrete for the base of the sidewalk is shoveled or dumped into the front part of the mold, and the finishing mortar is fed into the hopper in the middle. This hopper is so designed that it feeds a thin layer of mortor onto the concrete base as the mold travels forward. Thus a complete and perfect sidewalk is delivered at the rear end of the machine.

HOSPITAL DAY.

The ringing of the city bells and blowing of factory whistles, at noon today, again announced that Alexandria day at Luna Park was not to be forgotten by young or old. Beginning at an early hour this afternoon the electric trains were crowded with the young. Upon their arrival at the park every effort was made by the management for a successful entertainment. Tonight the local military company, Red Men and the Friendship Veteran Fire Co. will be the attractions. The vaudeville performance at the park this week is said to be the best of the season and well worth seeing. It is hoped that the evening crowds of adults will exceed all former evenings at the resort. The electric railway is today running every available train through from Washington to this city, stopping at Luna Park on both trips. The committee reports that the fund already amounts to over two hundred dollars. Tonight every citizen can contribute the price of admission direct to the hospital fund.

LEGLESS MAN ESCAPES.

Early last night while a number of young men were enjoying the electric fans at a prominent hotel on Royal street a legless man appeared on the scene and became very abusive to the proprietor who refused to sell him a drink. He was very "striking" in his remarks to those in close proximity to him and the telephone was brought into requisition with the result that Officer Roberts appeared on the scene. By this time the noisy one had escaped and diligent search failed to locate him. He claimed to be an ex-union soldier.

VILE LANGUAGE

It is generally conceded that when a woman is degraded there is hardly many worse human beings. This is clearly demonstrated from the vile tongues and the use they are put in applying horrible epithets to those with whom they come in contact. Last night a woman was arrested and while on her way to the station house the people living on north Fairfax street had to close their windows on account of the volleys of oaths which emanated from the woman's mouth. She was fined $5 this morning.

COLORED MAN KILLED.

A colored man, about 25 years old, was killed yesterday afternoon by a southbound passenger train just above Roberts' crossing near this city. He was sitting on a tie and was evidently asleep, as he made no attempt to move. A coroner's jury, called at 4 o'clock, exonerated the railroad company from blame. The man's body was brought to Demaine's undertaking establishment where it will be held for identification.

LETTER FROM ALTOONA.

The chief says he has received several letters from a young woman of Altoona connected with the case. It is understood that Lytle has married an Alexandria girl living in the southwestern section of this city.

THE ASSAULT CASE.

There is nothing new in the Cole assault case in the county and it is not known whether any special efforts are being put forth in the matter. It is known that Mrs. Cole lived on Queen street in this city at one time, and trouble in the family caused a separation between herself and husband, since which time she has been keeping a boarding house.

TRIP TO HARRISONBURG.

It is understood that on the morning of the 28th fire companies from Hampton and Newport News, which expect to enter the prize contests at Harrisonburg, will arrive in this city on the Norfolk steamer and be entertained before leaving in the afternoon by the local companies. POURED OIL ON BEE HIVE.

It appears that a swarm of bees got busy during the last month and as a result made a lot of honey under a step on King street near the wharf. The gentleman not having any use for the product poured kerosene oil on the hive which ruined the honey and killed a number of the bees.

TO BALLAST ROAD.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railway is installing at Massaponal, 57 miles north of Richmond, a large ballast plant, which practically will eliminate the dust from the roadbed. The entire line from Richmond to Washington will be newly ballasted, the work beginning about November 1. The plant is the first of its kind in the South.

WIFE BEATER.

As mentioned in the Gazette a day or two ago a man named Long was arrested for assaulting his wife. He was not present when the case was called this morning, neither was she—she evidently having forgiven him. But there is a tribunal before which his case must be heard and Justice Caton instructed the chief to have him before the court tomorrow morning.

STOLEN SHOES.

Dennis Jackson, colored, was before the Police Court this morning accused of the larceny of shoes. The evidence in the hands of the officers seems to be of a convincing nature, but as the commonwealth's attorney wished to communicate with parties in Baltimore in regard to the matter Justice Caton postponed the hearing till August 29.

FOR ESTABLISHING SCHOOLS.

In the appropriation bill passed by the legislature at its last session, in section 4, under the caption "Public School," the following appears:

"For high schools to be expended as per act creating public high schools, one hundred thousand dollars, provided that so much of the five hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars herein provided for the support of public schools and high schools as may be necessary, not to exceed twenty thousand dollars, shall be devoted to the establishment of departments of agriculture, domestic economy and manual training in at least one high school in each congressional district of the State, to be conducted under such rules and regulations as the State board of education and the president of the Virginia college of agriculture and polytechnic institute may prescribe."

This paragraph seems to have been overlooked by the school authorities in most of the districts.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

We have received a booklet of views of the State Female Normal School at Farmville. These serve to show, in a condensed way, something of the work that is being done there. The State offers professional training free to those young ladies who will pledge themselves to teach for two years in the public schools of Virginia. The enrollment for the past session (including the training school) was 330, and present prospects indicate an advance for the coming year.

We have received the centennial number of the Washington, Pa., Reporter, issued on the 15th inst. It contains an interesting history of the city of its publication and matter of general interest. It is a number of 72 pages, well illustrated, and reflects much credit upon its publishers.

FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

Three fire companies met at the Reliance engine house Monday night, and in conformity with the requirement of the firemen's relief bill enacted by the legislature organized "The Alexandria Firemen's Association" and requested the corporation attorney to draft a charter and make application to the coporation commission to have same granted. The following officers and directors were elected: President, J. H. Trimyer, Relief Truck Company; secretary, K. W. Ogden, Reliance Company. The following in addition to the officers constitute the board of directors: Relief Company, C. L. Pickin and Harry Haine; Columbia Company, C. J. W. Summers and J. F. Petty; Reliance Company, J. S. Douglas and A. H. Grimes.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mr. Lewis M. Kemper took place from his late residence, 406 Prince street, at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon and was largely attended. The services were conducted by the Rev. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, and the pallbearers were George E. Warfield, Walter G. Rogers, E. C. Joyce, George H. Evans, R. E. Acton, and Frank S. Harper. The remains were escorted to the cemetery by Alexandria-Washington Lodge and interred with Masonic honors.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

SPEED BOAT DAMAGED.

The fact that a boat no matter how speedy will not break down wharves or run over sunken piles without entailing damages was again proven last night when the fast boat of Mr. Joseph Moore came to a sudden stop on the old piles in front of the big mill property at the foot of Duke street. When extricated from its position it was found to have a large hole in its bow and was otherwise damaged, besides jarring the occupants.

AMUSEMENTS.

Notwithstanding other attractions which will take a great many out of the city for those who remain the moving picture houses offer rare treats tonight. These places of amusement were crowded last night and those who attended expressed themselves highly pleased with the entertainment furnished. See advertisements of tonight's shows.

PROPERTY SALE.

Mr. Samuel H. Lunt, auctioneer, sold at public auction yesterday evening for John D. Normoyle, agent for Mrs. Susie E. Sullivan, two building lots on Windsor avenue, near Mt. Vernon avenue, in Del Ray, improved by a two-story frame dwelling to Mr. A. B. Rowzie, of Del Ray, for $1,925 cash.

Through the courtesy of the Neale Publishing Co., Washington, D. C., we have received a copy of "Memory Days," a recently edited book by Alexander S. Paxton. The subject of this book is as attractive as the life of the author. It deals with the Shenandoah valley as seen fifty years ago and describes the life of that time of the people of Virginia. Pathos and humor alternate and the narrative is enlivened by anecdote and incident of "days that are no more." The book is handsomely bound, of excellent type and would be an interesting addition to any library.

A Faithful Friend,

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he know its value and is competent to speak of it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

Utilizing Sharks' Teeth.

The natives on some of the Pacific islands, being provided with neither metals nor any stone harder than the coral rocks of which the atolls they inhabit are composed, would seem badly off, indeed, for material of which to make tools or weapons were it not that their very necessity has bred an invention no less ingenious than curious and effective. This is nothing less than the use of sharks' teeth to give a cutting edge to their wooden knives and swords. The mouth of the shark contains 300 teeth arranged in five rows, all closely lying upon each other, except the outer row, and so constructed that as one tooth is broken or lost another takes its place. The teeth are not only pointed and keen edged but are finely and regularly serrated, so that the cutting power is greatly increased. Indeed, so great a faculty have these teeth for wounding that the implements and weapons upon which they are used have to be handled with great care. The Kingmill islanders make many strange articles of sharks' teeth.

A Monster of Learning.

The famous Cardinal Mezzofanti knew an amazing number of languages and dialects. Perhaps he is best known to the modern English reader from the eulogy to be found in one of Byron's memoranda, published by Moore.

"Your literary everyday man and I," says Byron, "never went well in company, especially your foreigner, whom I never could abide. I don't remember a man among them whom I ever wished to see twice, except perhaps Mezzofanti, who is a monster of learning, the Briareus of parts of speech, a walking polyglot and, more, who ought to have existed at the time of the tower of Babel as universal interpreter. He is indeed a marvel—unassuming also. I tried him in all the tongues of which I knew a single oath (or adjuration to the gods against postboys, savages, Tartars, boatmen, sailors, pilots, gondoliers, muleteers, camel drivers, vetturini, postmasters, posthorses, post houses, post everything), and, egad, he astounded me, even to my English."

Gulls and Clams.

The discussion continues between those who think that all the acts of the lower animals are satisfactorily explained by the hypothesis of inherited instinct and those who hold that there is an element of intelligence, if not of reasoning, in these things. W. L. Finley, in a work on American birds, mentions an observation of his which may perhaps be explained either way, but which in any case is interesting. A gull seized upon a clam and, rising to a height of about fifteen feet, allowed it to fall upon hard ground. The clam kept its mouth shut. Again the gull rose with it to the same height and dropped it once more, with the same result. This operation was repeated fifteen times, when at last the shock had the desired effect, the shell was opened, and the gull enjoyed its dainty contents.

The Bachelors' Excuses.

At a wedding breakfast the bachelors were called upon to give their reasons for remaining single. The following were among the reasons given:

"I am like the frog in the fable who, though he loved the water, would not jump into the well because he could not jump out again."

"I am too selfish and honest enough to admit it."

"I prefer, on the one hand, liberty, refreshing sleep, the opera, midnight suppers, quiet seclusion, dreams, cigars, a bank account and club to, on the other hand, disturbed rest, cold meat, baby linen, soothing sirup, rocking horses, bread pudding and empty pockets."

"I have a twin brother, and we have never had a secret from one another. He is married."

Suspicious.

A man entered a Tenderloin drug store the other day and asked for a telephone, says the New York Tribune He was evidently from out of town "Do I pay you first or afterward?" he asked the clerk when the instrument in question was pointed out to him. "You call your number and then put your dime in the slot," snapped the clerk. The stranger was suspicious. "In that hole there?" he asked, looking all around the telephone and fingering the slot dubiously. "Yes." "I guess not," said he, turning away, with decision. "I ain't lookin' fer no savin's bank."

Saw Him With Her Own Eyes.

"It is too bad," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that our curate seems likely to be a valetudinarian all his life."

"Why, he ain't, is he?" replied her hostess as she toyed with her diamond studded lorgnette. "I'm almost sure I seen him eatin' beefsteak at the dinner in the parish house night before last." —Chicago Record-Herald.

Followed Copy.

Father (to little son returning from horseback ride)—Got a fall, did you? Well, I hope you didn't cry like a baby. Son—No, dad, I didn't cry. I just said one word—the same as you'd have said. —Punch.

Another Authority.

Mr. Howe—I suppose you have studied all the authorities on social and economic questions? Mr. Wise—Not quite all. My daughter's graduation essay is not out yet.—Life.

A Paradox.

"What's the answer?"

"He is both the richest and poorest actor on the stage."
